<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>WORDS</th>
<th>DEFINITION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Microscope/Microscopic Germs Organisms Single-Celled Sick/Illness/Disease</td>
<td>A micro-organism that can cause illness or disease. A germ that makes people sick.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

SENTENCE

When Johnny became sick, his doctor told him it was caused by a pathogen.
WORDS

Influenza
One makes many/Reproduce
Cell
Sick/Illness/Disease

DEFINITION

Tiny germs/pathogens that can reproduce only by invading a living cell and cause illness/disease

SENTENCE

When the influenza virus starts reproducing in your body, you feel sick with the flu like a fever and body aches.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>WORDS</th>
<th>DEFINITION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Mosquito</td>
<td>An organism from which another organism obtains its nutrition and/or shelter</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Human = HOST</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bites</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sucks Blood</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Food/Nutrient</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

SENTENCE

The mosquito bites the human to use it as a host in order to suck blood for food, energy, and nutrition.
A bite from a mosquito can transmit a disease to you if the mosquito is a vector for a virus.