

Score	Description
3	Student completed a video that was appropriate for a Grade 5 audience. The video was comprehensive and included the definition of biodiversity and a discussion of its importance, an explanation of how the use of natural resources by humans impacts the environment and current and future generations, the definition of the concepts of sustainability and sustainable use, an explanation of why it is important to use a resource sustainably, and a list and explanation of ways students can use resources sustainably and help promote the sustainable use of resources.
2	Student completed a video that was appropriate for a Grade 5 audience. The video was mostly comprehensive, but left out one of the following concepts: the definition of biodiversity and a discussion of its importance, an explanation of how the use of natural resources by humans impacts the environment and current and future generations, the definition of the concepts of sustainability and sustainable use, an explanation of why it is important to use a resource sustainably, and a list and explanation of ways students can use resources sustainably and help promote the sustainable use of resources.
1	Student completed a video that was appropriate for a Grade 5 audience. The video was mostly comprehensive, but left out two or three of the following concepts: the definition of biodiversity and a discussion of its importance, an explanation of how the use of natural resources by humans impacts the environment and current and future generations, the definition of the concepts of sustainability and sustainable use, an explanation of why it is important to use a resource sustainably, and a list and explanation of ways students can use resources sustainably and help promote the sustainable use of resources.
0	Student completed a video but it was not appropriate for a Grade 5 audience. The video was not comprehensive and was missing at least three of the following concepts: the definition of biodiversity and a discussion of its importance, an explanation of how the use of natural resources by humans impacts the environment and current and future generations, the definition of the concepts of sustainability and sustainable use, an explanation of why it is important to use a resource sustainably, and a list and explanation of ways students can use resources sustainably and help promote the sustainable use of resources.